JBL Creature II. JBL's Creature II consists of tiny satellites (3" x 3") that look like, well, little creatures, and a subwoofer that looks like their very big creature brother. Chrome-looking knobs on the subwoofer allow you to fine-tune the bass and treble, and touch-sensitive volume controls on the right satellite are, no pun intended,...

Review: JBL Creature II. An fairly large AC adapter gets power to the whole system. On the subwoofer, there is a green LED on the back to indicate power, and silver, bullet-shaped knobs for bass and treble located on the front. Unfortunately, the power button is located on the back, and not the easiest to reach, but it seems JBL has taken Apple's...
